Interested in science?
Want a career that’s challenging and financially rewarding?

Undergraduate:
Environmental Health
Certificate
(15 Credits)

Graduate:
Master of Science– Thesis Based
(Environmental Science or Environmental Health Emphasis)
Designed for students with a B.A. in a natural science, technology or engineering area.

Professionals in this challenging, diverse and financially rewarding fieldwork in the following fast-paced and hands-on environments:

- Investigating Disease Outbreaks
- Managing Waste Products/Water Quality
- Maintaining an Ecosystem
- Protecting Employees from Worksite Chemicals: Biological and Radiological Hazards

50,000 current U.S. jobs in federal, state and local government, health organizations, private companies and the military.

New graduates have the potential to earn $30,000-$65,000/year.

For more information about the Environmental Science programs at UNI, please visit http://www.envprogs.uni.edu/

Dr. Maureen Clayton, Director
Environmental Programs
University of Northern Iowa
127 McCollum Science Hall
Cedar Falls, IA 50614-0421
Tel: (319) 273-7147